Broken

Casey Donahew Band

I wish I could push a button and make the pain all go away I wish I had the magic words but I don't know what to say I wish I could take the wasted years and throw them all away And it might sound easy for me to say You are going to find a way to fix what's broken Fix what's broken You say you like people with fire, but you don't like it when you get burned Broke about a thousand hearts, now you don't like it when it's your turn You wonder when you're going to figure out all the lessons that you need to learn And it might sound simple for me to say you will learn someday that All you need is love All those big dreams that were so important, they don't mean anything now All you need is love All those hard times when people hurt you, they don't mean anything now All you need is love Love is all you need to fix what's broken Love is all you need to fix what's broken You turn sunshine into chaos everywhere you go Now your girl has got a brand new life with a guy you used to know She got tired of the drama you make when life gets too slow And it might sound simple for me to say you will heal someday now All you need is love

All those big dreams that were so important, they don't mean anything now All you need is love All those hard times when people turned on you, they don't mean anything now All you need is love All those happy endings that never happened, they don't mean anything now All you need is love Love is all you need to fix what's broken Love is all you need to fix what's broken Love is all you need to fix what's broken Love is all you need Now, enough is enough Enough is enough The time is going to come when you stop feeling sorry for yourself Yeah, you were broken when you were young and you never got over it

You were damaged when you were young, and now you take it out on everyone The time is going to come when you say that enough is enough The time is going to come when you stop beating yourself up Stop beating yourself up Stop beating yourself up The time is going to come when you see that all you need is love All you need is love All you need is love, love, love, love, love The time is going to come when you see All you need is love All you need is love Love is all you need to fix what's broken Love is all you need to fix what's broken
