

Chapter 4. Remove the Mask

Bishop David G Evans & Beth Winslow

As a loving father I know all about you,
Before your life on earth begin I knew your name,
I see it all I know your past and things that lie before you and,
Iâ€™ve been there for every victory and each pain.
Thereâ€™s been no time to past that Iâ€™ve not thought about you,
And listened for your voice call upon my name,
Because I know the things youâ€™ve hidden in dark places,
And each mask you wear hid your tattered frame.
So bring your broken heart and scattered dreams before me,
Iâ€™ll do abundantly above what you can think.
I am the Lord there is no lack or want with in me,
Is there anything too hard for me?
Remove the mask and lay it at my feet,
Come as you are and with your faith reach for me
My healing oil will increase with every care you cask on me.
Under the shelter healing wings
Under the shelter healing wings
Under the shelter healing wings.

Lyrics Submitted by Jacquetta Owens

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>