Phoenix With a Heartache

Kids In the Way

It's a bone cold night, I'm breathing in the air
It's freezing up my lungs as I fight for words to share with you
To tell you what you've done to me
You ripped me from my set in stone complacencyYou rose from the ashes like a phoenix with a heartache
Now you're taking me away with you tonight
And I know that I can't fly
When I'm in your arms, I'm holding up the skyIt's a bone cold night, I'm breathing in despair
It's freezing up my heart as you fight for words to share with me
To tell me what my eyes can't see
You ripped me from my set in stone complacencyYou rose from the ashes like a phoenix with a heartache
Now you're taking me away with you tonight
And I know that I can't fly
When I'm in your arms, I'm holding up the sky
I'm holding up the skyI'm holding up the sky'Cause there you were, standing there
Like an answer to a dream I never had
You showed me everything, showed me everything
Showed me everything I never knew about meYou rose from the ashes like a phoenix with a heartache
Now you're taking me away with you tonight
And I know that I can't fly
When I'm in your arms, I'm holding up the sky
I'm holding up the skyYou rose from the ashes like a phoenix with a heartache
Now you're taking me away with you tonight
