

Empire

Of Monsters and Men

Feel the ocean as it breathes
Shimmering teeth
See the mountains where they meet
Smaller in me As the wind fends off the waves
I count down the days
Heavy stones filling the weather I find comfort in the sound
And the shape of the high
How it echoes through the chest
From under the ground As the hills turn into homes
I fill them with ghouls
Heavy stones filling the weather From the rain comes a river
Running wild that we create
An empire for you
Illuminate there is a river
Running wild that we create An empire for you
An empire for two
An empire for you
An empire for two And I paint your body black
I hide in your hair
And you're staring back at me
Like I wasn't there As some bodies become sticks
We welcome the fear
Heavy stones filling the weather From the rain comes a river
Running wild that we create
An empire for you
Illuminate there is a river
Running wild that we create An empire for you
An empire for two
An empire for you
An empire for two From the rain comes a river
Running wild that we create
An empire for you
Illuminate there is a river
Running wild that we create An empire for you
An empire for two
An empire for you
An empire for two
