

Miss You, Love You

Maroon 5

This is not been easy, this has been hard
I am scarred and I do not know what to do with you
Go inside, kiss your mouth, lick my lips, strap your hips
Can't remember why I fell in love with this
I miss you, I love you
It's a shame you can't stay away from me this time, oh no
You beg me, you ask me to kiss you and hug you
You won't be getting my affection again, oh no
I don't need you
Who do you think you are? No one cares about a name without a face
So don't go shooting up the place
Make no mistake, your love's not real 'cause the love I've got is deeper
So much deeper than you can ever feel
And I miss you, I love you
It's a shame you can't stay away from me this time, oh no
You beg me, you ask me to kiss you and hug you
You won't be getting my affection again, oh no
'Cause I don't need you tonight
It was really nice to know you and nothing left to show you
I got bills to pay, get out of the way, it's time to move on
And dinner with your boyfriend will never be the same again
Discuss me over cigarettes and say to him
I miss you, I love you
It's a shame, you can't stay away from me this time, oh no
You beg me, you ask me to kiss you and hug you
You won't be getting my affection again, oh no
'Cause I don't need you
I miss you, I love you
It's a shame, you can't stay away from me this time, oh no
You beg me, you ask me to kiss you, hug you
You won't be getting my affection again, no, no
'Cause I won't need you
