

Alisha Rules the World

Alisha's Attic

She's an angel, but she sins sometimes
Dressed in white, gets drunk on red wine
Everyone loves her
But a child plays for pleasure and she'll play with your heart until she
Breaks down your defences one by one
So line up your soldiers and she'll shoot them all down
'Cause Alisha rules the world
You think you found a dream, then it shatters and it seems,
That Alisha rules the world
For her love of power, and she's as fragile as a flower
But you better
Line up your soldiers and she'll shoot them all down,
'Cause Alisha rules the world
Alisha always walks where angels fear to fly
Perfection baby - you know you're qualified
Everyone loves her
But a child plays for pleasure and she'll play with your heart until she
Breaks down your defences one by one
So line up your soldiers, and she'll shoot them all down
'Cause Alisha rules the world
You think you found a dream, then it shatters and it seems,
That Alisha rules the world
For her love of power, and she's as fragile as a flower
But you better
Line up your soldiers and she'll shoot them all down
'Cause Alisha rules the world
And when it all comes down you realize
It's just her playful heart inside your mind
So line up your soldiers and she'll shoot them all down,
'Cause Alisha rules the world
So line up your soldiers and she'll shoot them all down,
'Cause Alisha rules the world
You think you've found a dream
Alisha rules the world
Line up your soldiers and she'll shoot them all down,
'Cause Alisha rules the world
You think you found a dream, then it shatters and it seems,
That Alisha rules the world
So line up your soldiers and she'll shoot them all down,
'Cause Alisha rules the world
You think you found a dream, then it shatters and it seems,
That Alisha rules the world
So line up your soldiers and she'll shoot them all down,
'Cause Alisha rules the world

Songwriters

Poole, Michelle Lena / Martin, Terence / Poole, Karen Ann
Published by

Lyrics Â© Kobalt Music Publishing Ltd., Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>