

All Is Good In the Land

Burning Image

This strange man comes to me and says, he says "what are you doing here, son?"

He said "Moe, get your shit together man, cause I don't do this just for anyone!"

Your life, your mess, it's your fault, I guess, I can fix it; just don't fuck it up again!So tell me, was it worth it?

Now that your soul is mine

I don't make you nervous, do I?

It happens every timeHe says to me, for a small fee,

I can make shit happen that you wouldn't believe.

And with a wave of his hand, all is good in the land

When does my new life begin?

For what it's worth, your time on earth will be joyous

He howls as he laughs at me.

"Hey man, you owe me big time now"

"Just remember, that all this happened because of me.You will come to regret this

It happens every time

This isn't the last you've seen of me

Now that your soul is mine
