

Last of Your Kind

Ed Harcourt

?? ?? and museums and the palaces are falling down
But I don't notice them as they're swallowed by the ground
Watch the politicians and the liars all jumping in the river
But I am unaware I only see you There's nothing more to do
You're the last of your kind
Nothing more to say
You're the last of your kind
No one else like you
You're the last of your kind There's nothing more to do
You're the last of your kind
There's nothing more to say
You're the last of your kind
No one else like you
You're the last of your kind A thousand pale horses trudging through the fog and gas of the empire
Our leader's in the bunker mourning for his future
City types and brokers scream at helicopters hoping to be rescued
But I don't hear them I only hear you If this is just a bad dream sequence
I'm more than happy to pretend
If we're standing on the edge of existence
I don't want this moment to end There's nothing more to do
You're the last of your kind
Nothing more to say
You're the last of your kind
No one else like you
You're the last of your kind So pull me from the brink
You're the last of your kind
You see the good within
You're the last of your kind
I've broken everything
And you're the last of your kind Just when I thought there was nothing worth dying for
Just when I knew it was pointless being born
Just when I thought there was nothing worth living for
There you stood in the eye of the storm Just when I thought there was nothing worth dying for
Just when I knew it was pointless being born
Just when I thought there was nothing worth living for
There you stood in the eye of the storm
