Help Somebody

Deitrick Haddon

Your day is someones night, your smile is someones cry
Even when you're happy, there is someone somewhere hurting
And though the sun fill your sky, tears fill someone else's eyes
Even though you're alright, there is someone lonely tonight, so

Help me Lord, please to touch somebody
'Cause everybody needs to know they're loved
Touch me Lord, please to help somebody
'Cause everybody needs to know they're loved

Someone's full of sorrow, with no hope for tomorrow
Searchin' for the answer 'cause they have no one to follow
Make me an example, so I can lead them to You
Let me be the pathway, with Your help I know they'll feel brand new

Help me Lord, please to touch somebody
'Cause everybody needs to know they're loved
Touch me Lord please to help somebody
'Cause everybody needs to know they're loved

Somebody's losin' faith, fallin' away from grace
Ooh, Lord, take us to another place
They're on the verge of lettin' go, you're about to lose a soul
Please hear my cry, touch me help me please

Help me Lord, please to touch somebody
'Cause everybody needs to know they're loved
Touch me Lord, please to help somebody
'Cause everybody needs to know they're loved

Help me Lord, please to touch somebody
'Cause everybody needs to know they're loved
Touch me Lord, please to help somebody
'Cause everybody needs to know they're loved

Help me Lord, please to touch somebody
'Cause everybody needs to know they're loved
Touch me Lord, please to help somebody
'Cause everybody needs to know they're loved
