

Warm

Chomsky

Warm my lips against your lips
And warm my finger tips
By giving me your hand
So warm to have you close to me
And hold you tenderly
I never felt so burned
All of my life I walked in the cold
Till I found your warm arms
For having to hold
So please don't ever let me go
For I could never know
A love that is so warm
So warm to have you close to me
And hold you tenderly
I never felt so burned
All of my life I walked in the cold
Till I found your warm arms
For having to hold
So please don't ever let me go
For I could never know
A love that is so warm
