

Myself

Taproot

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

If life was a game, could I win in the end?
And if I was sane, would I fuck it up all over again?
These questions and answers can help me redefine myself
And I thank your open ears for all the help(No more shit)
It's what I see for myself
I need to change for my health
I need a better way of life for myself If I stay the same, how long will I last?
Yet if I change will I still just be alone and typecast?
Professional answers can't help me to design myself
So I thank your open arms for all the help(No more shit)
It's what I see for myself
I need to change for my health
I need a better way of life for myself Caressing gateways of the mind
Over, enter through spaces time
Heals wounds inspiring gifts of light
Inside myself just need some time
(Just need some time to myself) To figure it out 'cause I've got no doubt
That when my dreams come true
It's because of you
And the fact that I let you(No, no, no, more shit)
It's what I see for myself
I need to change for my health
I need a better way of life for myself Caressing gateways of our mind
Over, enter through spaces time
Heals wounds inspiring gifts of light
Inside myself just need time
