Gone Either Way

Ray Scott

You can lay right here beside me, like there aint nothing wrong,
Kill the light and say goodnight and turn the TV off,
Act as if I dont know what it is that you cant find the words to say,
Aw baby you can leave or you can stay,
Youre gone either wayWe can share the bed and share the rent but this house aint a home,
And if Im gonna be lonely Id just assume be alone,
How can you say you love me when you cant even look me in the face,
Stay right here and disappear without a trace,
Youre gone either wayI dont need the hurt from hangin on to someone whos got one foot out the door
And I cant waste another minute of my love if you dont love me anymore,
No, no, noNaw, dont need the hurt from hangin on to someone whos got one foot out the door,
I cant waste another minute of my love if you dont love me anymore
