Serves Me Right

Garrison Starr

Of all the things that I could be doin'
Im up hours tryin' to make somethin' of you
I got a new set of strings, not a word to settle on
I been causin' scenes at an ending I knew all alongAnd it serves me right, yeah I guess
For gladly volunteerin' for a good kick in my chest
It serves me right, yeah I guess
For pretendin' not to notice, I was settlin' for lessFat and happy, fixed and puffed up for awhile
Nothing could shake me, that is until you changed your smile
Suddenly, yeah Im defenseless and defamed
While you get everything you want without givin' up your gameAnd it serves me right, yeah I guess
For gladly volunteerin' for one good kick in my chest
It serves me right, yeah I guess, yeah
For pretendin' not to notice, I was settlin' for lessAnd I cant seem to get clean
From the magic you bring, you bringYeah, Im easy for ever spendin' time
So carelessly, just livin' for your line
And Im crazy for thinkin' love has changed
Still tradin' all my finest hours for one ordinary dayIt serves me right, yeah I guess
For gladly volunteerin' for a good kick in my chest
It serves me right, yeah I guess, yeah
For pretendin' not to notice, I was settlin' for less, yeah
