Start Again

Teenage Fanclub

I don't know if you can hear me
I'm feeling down and can't think clearlyEven though it's complicated
We've got time to start again
I don't know if you can hear meSome things I'd change but it's too late
I'd take the past and make it straightEven though it's complicated
We've got time to start again
I don't know if you can hear meI'm sorry for the things I've said
But some thoughts just won't leave my headAnd even though it's complicated
We've got time to start again
I don't know if you can hear meEven though it's complicated
We've got time to start again
I don't know if you can hear me
