Why Not Me

David Baerwald

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

suddenly
it came to me
surrendering
could set me free
just when id scratched true love from my list given up hope such a thing could exist then you came along
you who made me figure out what all those songs
are all about
if love could save this whole damn world
then why not me?love again like a forgotten friend came round the bend
i'm in love again
id come to grips
with my loneliness
contenting myself
with a stranger's kiss
when you came along
you who made me figure out
are all about
then why not me?
