Rise

The Frames

Breathing in the night
There's nothing else I'm needing now
The wind is at my side
And so are youAnd together we will rise
With all these words and promises we couldn't keep
Together we will fly
Above it all nowBut sometimes we will fall
From the night
But it shines on us tonight
And together we will rise
Together we will rise, we will riseAnd surely it's a sign now
That everything's in tune to some kinda higher plan
Yeah, surely it's a sign
That you were rightAnd there's this secret line
That we've been denied, whoa
I'm crossing it tonight
And together we will rise, yeah
Together we will rise, we will riseBut sometimes we will fall
From the light, whoa
But it shines on us tonight
But together we will risePast this light
And we'll cross it here tonight
And together we will rise
Together we will rise, we will rise
