

Perfect Sense

No Fun At All

I saw you coming in, you condescending smile
I saw you standing there, you didn't care at all
You never listened much, a lack of interest
You came around to me But how could I anticipate your love? Like an angel, you came and made me a stranger
Like an angel, you came and made me a stranger
Like an angel, you came and gave a another chance I tried a thousand ways to penetrate your shield
I tried to comprehend your ambiguity
You never specified what your intentions were
You kept me in the dark
