

You Can't Control It

Jack Johnson

Understand one thing
If and when you drink from this vast ocean
You can't control it
Na, na, you can't control it Mom forget to tuck you in
Make you start a war within your head
One that you could never win
Send in the troops, send insecurities
What doesn't matter in the end
So daddy told you understand one thing, son
Understand one thing
If and when you drink from this vast ocean
You can't control it
Na, na, na, you can't control it With the procession underway
Understand the magnitude of the melodies that they make
Did it fill your lungs with rage?
What's the matter, did catastrophe get your tongue tied in the fray?
When the band began to play
Daddy wiped the tears away, he said son
Please understand one thing
If and when you drink from this vast ocean
You can't control it
Na, na, you can't control it
Na, na, you can't control it
Na, na, you can't control it
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>