

That Girl Has Love

Rooney

I don't know a lot about her
But she, she knew a lot about me
Her family seemed to love her
If what they say is true
Her friends all shared the good times, man
That girl has love
That girl has I, I didn't have a clue then
That a kiss would change my whole life again
She walked into my room when I was all alone
She told me I would date her from September to December
She doesn't know
Things will never be the same again
She'll always be seventeen
That girl has love
She kept all the pain inside
Now she has got nothing to hide
At such a young age, she took her own life
Now she's seeing things that come in
Our dreams at night, she's a dreamer
She doesn't know
Things will never be the same again
She'll always be seventeen
That girl has love, love
That was too real to ever be fake
That was too strong to ever be forgotten
That girl has love
Love love love
Love love love
Love love love
She doesn't know
Things will never be the same again
She'll always be seventeen
That girl has, that girl has
That girl has love
