Fear Of Wasted Time

Court Yard Hounds

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

You know me well
I can't sit still
I was raising Cain
Now I'm raising babiesTime might pass me by
If I close my eyes
So I'm on the next plane leaving town
I'll be gone tonightAnd you ask why I do it that way
It's just the fear of wasted time
The fear of wasted time
That's whyI hold my babies tight
Sneak into their beds at night
I'll just stay and watch them breathing
Next thing I know the alarm clock's ringingI watch every frame
Of this life I've made
Take a picture but I miss the moment now
Looking in their eyesAnd you ask why I do it that way
It's just the fear of wasted time
The fear of wasted time
That's whyThe feeling's very strange
I'm waiting for the pain
And happiness can terrify me now
It could be good byeAnd you ask why I'm that way
It's just the fear of wasted time
The fear of wasted time
That's why, that's whyThat's why, that's why
