Total Immersion

Bloody Sunday

multi billion dollar corporate media feeding us
all the lines
that we want to hear
we were all raised on the belief that we would make it in this world there's no reason for us to feari don't believe in those fairytales like the american dream where everyone wins
in the end
i've worked hard enough and i've shed my tears trying so hard but getting nowherehow long will we go on living on comfort
and sloth
when the hungry
die in our streets
how long will we believe the hype
they feed
fully endorsed by heartless greedawaken sleeping proletariat who holds the key to public outcry
and a change in public policy we must believe that this can happen if we strive to be more conscious of effort to be free
we must build a better life if our children can survivei can not stand by your side
and watch you
add to the lie
it's time for us to take charge
this is our

our call to arms
we must defend our way of life

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/