

Become Like You

The Dreaming

I am the life
That you've forgotten
I am the future
That you've left behind
I am the truth
You try to silence
I am everything about you that's a lie

I will never let myself become like you
I will never let myself become like you
I would rather die before
I become what I abhor
I will never let myself become like you

I am the door
You're afraid to open
I am the question
That plagues your mind
I am the storm
That grows around you
I'm the calm within the center of the eye

I will never let myself become like you
I will never let myself become like you
I will not have died before
I become what I live for
I will never let myself become like you

There's no one to kiss you goodnight
No one to kiss you goodnight
No one to cry for
No one to die for
No one to kiss you goodnight

I am the life
That you've forgotten
I am the future
You've left behind

But I will never let myself become like you

I will never let myself become like you
I will not have died before
I become what I live for
I will never let myself become like you
