Angels And Demons

Microscan

As I wake up from my sleep
I was dreaming I was in the North Pole
Ice beneath my feet
So beautiful it seemed
Then I realized I would never be warm
Without you next to meVoices in my head
Wake up, you wake up and you run to her
After all the time we spent
I messed up, but I can't take anymoreOohh she's like an open book
I sat and read it all
And understand that when I slip I fall
And oohh she's like an open book
I passed the pages through
And in the end I'm always back with youA chill runs down my spine
Oh I can't take it
Memories when you used to be mine
The angel on my left shoulder
He's singing sad songs to me
Sad songs to me, sad songs to me
The demon on the right screamed over
He said you'll be just fine, why can't you see
Why can't you seeOohh she's like an open book
I sat and read it all
And understand that when I slip I fall
And oohh she's like an open book
I passed the pages through
And in the end I'm always back with youYou're all I see
You know I mean it
I'll be there when you need me
I wanted to say I want you to stay
So please take me back
Don't go awayOohh
I should have never let you go
OohhOohh she's like an open book
I sat and read it all
And understand that when I slip I fall
And oohh she's like an open book
I passed the pages through
And in the end I'm always back with youYou're all I see

You know I mean it
I'll be there when you need me
I wanted to say I want you to stay
So please take me back
Don't go away
