Toxic Boy

Blame Candy

He walks in like he's Jesus
And talks BIG
But no one knows his name
He's got plans that sound amazing
But they're only plans
And that's how they'll remain

He does well in social circles
And friends come fast
When he kisses their ass
It's not long until they find out
He's just a cancer
Waiting to eat them alive

It's all a game of sympathy
He can do what he wants
'Cause his life was hard!
He'll beat you up then play the victim
It's honestly best to stay far away
From him
Stay far away from him
