

Perfect Weather (The 312 Remix)

Weather Pending

I always think about you when Im flying,all the tiny freeways and all the tiny houses
Could it be that one day well stop adjudicating
And all the tiny people will breathe in sweet salvation Its the perfect weather, its the perfect weather for the truthand you should really come outside into the sunshine (2 X)
Its the perfect weather, its the perfect weather for the truthand you should really come outside into the sunshine (2 X)
I always think about you when Im sleepingall the subconscious dreams that Ill never admit to Perhaps one day well wake up and see the sky a new blue Lost inside our daydreams and lost inside our memories
Its the perfect weather, its the
perfect weather for the truthand you should really come outside into the sunshine (2 X) Traveling this here broken road I dont know which way to go Its the perfect weather, its the perfect weather for the truthand you should really come outside into the sunshine (2 X) and you should really come outside into the sunshine (2X)
