All for Nothing

Plan Three

All the lines showing in your face wear the signs
They look cold and breached
Will you stop when someone else around you is falling?
Fate is in our way
They wore you out and cut you down
Everything just seems too far away

Taking hits without beating
I walk away without leaving
So, one for all and all for nothing

You hide everything inside
Do you fool everyone around?
When you crash you think there?s someone there to save you
Do you know the pain I feel?
And it grows
Is it help I need?
When I cry will you be the one that I surrender to?
(Will you be the one?)
And fate is in our way
They wore you out and cut you down
Everything just seems too far away

Ohh?
I?m taking hits without beating
I walk away without leaving
So, one for all and all for nothing
Turn the page without reading
I fill my lungs without breathing
So, one for all and all for nothing

And all that is lost will be revealed
Crying out by the weaker
To show that you feel
It?s only to know
It?s only to hold
When you?re living life at the bottom
There?s nothing left to show

I?m closing my eyes but I?m seeing

I?m wide awake when I?m dreaming

(Now is it one for all)
And all for nothing

Turn the page without reading
I fill my lungs without breathing
So, one for all and all for nothing

(So, one for all and all for nothing)

Do you know the pain I feel?
And it grows
Is it help I need when I cry?
It?s always one for all and all for nothing
