

More Than a Love Song

Augustana

what can i say i miss your eyes
nothing more
what can a love song provide
words are a lovely trite of something more
and i wanna give to you give to you more than a love song can give more than a feeling like this more than a dimmed light upon a path you walk more than the words can explain more than the falling rain more than the sun shines upon your lovely face more than a love song now find a way to come to me show me where show me where i used to be and bring me there Well, this is enough to see something more
more than a love song now look upon your face its beauty to me when i look upon
its beauty to me
its beauty to me more than a love song can give
just more than a love song
