Spacewalk

Ben Mynott

Months of preparations are over now I'm finally here Standing in the airlock waiting the signal says clear Jumping through the open door a sight I've never seen before Space is everywhere and the Earth is there Pressing the yellow magic key releases the wires and sets me free Spacewalking, spacewalking
There is no up and there is no down when I'm spacewalking
Flying high in the sky I'm floating in a vacuum away from the Enterprise Can't say that I'm a believer but this is paradise Suddenly a feeling of presence somewhere
I turn around and see a face: "an alien, I swear!"
No suit, gray skin, big black eyes looking at me, I'm paralyzed Then it's gone
I'm all alone
Spacewalking, spacewalking
