This Curse Of Days

Death By Stereo

You can't take us down, you can't stop us now,
You can't crush all my hopes, my dreams, my enemy is time,
There is no silence now, you will not shut my mouth,
My thoughts you will no longer oppress, my enemy is timeAnd as I fight for breath, I will not give up hope, no,
And as the winter comes, and as the seasons change,
Closer to death I draw, we face this curse of daysI think you're scared I'll live forever, and in so many ways I will,
These words are fuel to feed the fire, and hold us back you never willYou can't take this now, I will scream out loud,
About this world you force upon me, my enemy is time,
I only have right now, to fucking bring you down,
Watch your world crumble around you, my enemy is timeAnd as I fight for breath, I will not give up hope, no,
And as the winter comes, and as the seasons change,
Closer to death I draw, we face this curse of daysI think you're scared I'll live forever, and in so many ways I will,
These words are fuel to feed the fire, and hold us back you never will
And as the winter comes, and as the seasons change,
Closer to death I draw, we face this curse of daysI think you're scared I'll live forever, and in so many ways I will,
These words are fuel to feed the fire, and hold us back you never,
You never, you never, never will!
