

The Artist

Rend Collective

Jesus, You're the artist
We are just Your canvas
You take all our brokenness and make it shine
You take all our brokenness and make it shine In the darkest failure
You paint the perfect picture
You take all our brokenness and make it shine
You take all our brokenness and make it shine You make all things
bright and beautiful
Wild and colourful
You make our lives
bright and beautiful
Wild and colourful
You are the artist
Jesus You're the author
Writing all our futures
The story isn't over
You will make it shine
The story isn't over
You will make us shine You make all things
bright and beautiful
Wild and colourful
You make our lives
bright and beautiful
Wild and colourful
You are the artist
You are the artist
You take all our brokenness and make it shine
You take all our brokenness and make it shine
The story isn't over
You will make us shine
You take all our brokenness and make it shine
You take all our brokenness and make it shine
The story isn't over
You will make us shine
You take all our brokenness and make it shine
You take all our brokenness and make it shine
The story isn't over
You will make us shine
You take all our brokenness and make it shine

You take all our brokenness and make it shine

The story isn't over

You will make us shine You make all things

bright and beautiful

Wild and colourful

You make our lives

bright and beautiful

Wild and colourful

You make all things

bright and beautiful

Wild and colourful

You make our lives

bright and beautiful

Wild and colourful

You are the artist

You are the artist

You are the artist
