

Remake Me & You

Diana Vickers

You're still gone
Maybe I should look for you
Hiding corners
Baby, I should be there tooRunning for it
It's the only we save us
It's who we are
To see where it will take usI can't run too long
Sorry, better find ourselves now
I don't think we're strong
Sorry but we gotta sort ourselves outHere's my hands, here's my hand
You can hold on to
Where's your head, your head
Never thinking through
Here's my heart, here's my heart
You can take it with youHere's my hands, here's my hands
You can hold on to
Where's your head, your head
Never thinking throughHere's my heart, here's my heart
You can take it with you
To hold on is hard so remake me and you
Remake me andI can hold your body
But my grip is not strong enough
Out of my hands
But you could sink us both back upWhy we went wrong?
All I do is question it
Holding my tongue
All I want to do is admitI can't run too long
Sorry, better find ourselves now
I don't think we're strong
Sorry but we gotta sort ourselves outHere's my hands, here's my hand
You can hold on to
Where's your head, your head
Never thinking through
Here's my heart, here's my heart
You can take it with youHere's my hands, here's my hands
You can hold on to
Where's your head, your head
Never thinking throughHere's my heart, here's my heart
You can take it with you

To hold on is hard so remake me and you
Remake me andRemake me and you
Remake me and
Remake me and youHere's my hands, here's my hand
You can hold on to
Where's your head, your head
Never thinking through
Here's my heart, here's my heart
You can take it with youHere's my hands, here's my hands
You can hold on to
Where's your head, your head
Never thinking throughHere's my heart, here's my heart
You can take it with you
To hold on is hard so remake me and you
Remake me andRemake me and you
