

On The Lash

The Icarus Line

Feel like somethings always been wrong
Love of life is hitting way too strong
May be we were born too late
May be not born at all Let's try and cure your latest pains
Prescribe the life thats driving me insane
Tragic turn of fatal flaws, my hearts burnt to black
Feel like the storms come to cut me down
On the lash, its time to get the hell out of this town Attention spans a moments escape
These escapes they come so small
Tragic turns and curses the walls
Mine aint coming back, but I can fake it All the best learn to live life like a vampire
And tell their stories to the campfire
Doesnt everybody know they gotta lose themselves once in a while?
Sleep all day just to kill time, let the sun slide out of the sky Doesnt everybody know?
I can feel it Cant you feel it now? Feels like stealing
Come on let's start the healing, gimme feeling
