

Predictable

Quaint

I can in every way, mistake the pain I feel inside
It comes at me, evil thoughts is creeping through my mind
Who are you to say, that I can't speak what's on my mind

It runs away

It's so predictable

I can in every way, feel the stress all tingled up inside
Too blind to see, emptiness and sorrow of their lives
You run away, to the cover of their pointless ties

You ask me

It's so predictable

I'm gonna try

I'm gonna die

I'm gonna try

Another day. Silence overwhelms my mind

Who's to say if I have the time or why

Should I pray for all the hate to go away?

Another day. I can never break free

You wait for me

I crawl up to you

Another day

I'll live forever

Why should I?

I'm gonna try

I'm gonna die

I'm gonna try

I'm gonna try! Should I?

I'm gonna try

I'm gonna die

I'm gonna try
