

White Flags

Our Lady Peace

And she says it's cold
And she says the sky's about to fall
How do you know?
Well, she says the writing's on the wall Everything I made I somehow broke
Every word I say I think I stole
I can't explain
But I won't give up the ghost She looks like an angel
Talks like it's war And this whole world has gone crazy
God's got a little lazy
We're raising our white flags
And holding our breath
No retreat and no surrendering And she says it's late
And come on, we're heading for the sun
I said now wait
Ah, this battle's just begun Every line I've crossed has come undone
Everything I know is somehow wrong
I can't escape
And there's nowhere left to run She looks like an angel
Talks like it's war And this whole world has gone crazy
God's got a little lazy
We're raising our white flags
And holding our breath
But no retreat and no surrendering I'm gonna fall with you
Crawl with you, oh no, oh no
I'm gonna fall with you
I'll break down these walls with you
Oh no And this whole world has gone crazy
God's got a little lazy
We're raising our white flags
And holding our breath
Oh, we're trading our black hearts
For angels instead
But no retreat and no surrendering
