

Body's a Temple

Jay Brannan

Perfect body, perfect smile touch renders me surville I love the, the way you speak to me so sweet yet obscene the way you smell of chlorine

I'm addicted and, you'd agree i crave you endlessly and i feel useful, on my knees and i take comfort at your feet

They say your body's a temple and boy were they right this feels so simple,i could kiss you all night and i could spend forever, in the plam of your hand but when the clock strikes twelve, oooh you go home to another man

In my mind you found a fortress one i'm happy to provide no need to ask,
just recive believe its your to take what thrills you inside
