

The Secret (Single Edit) [feat. Sarah Brightman]

Sash!

There's a secret 'bout your love
That always keeps me thinking of How we ease each others pain Only when I feel you near
You take away my deepest fear You put a spell on my heart
But I am not calling for any redemption And the secret still remains
And I want you not to reveal
How you make feel
How I have been touched by your love So you keep the key
And I keep on playing my part
Not knowing the game
And the secret will remain These thoughts they haunt me every night
Visions covering my mind
Cause I know you can't be far Just the thought that you are mine
Makes cold wind shiver down my spine You put a spell on my heart
But I am not calling for any redemption And the secret still remains
And I want you not to reveal
How you make feel
How I have been touched by your love So you keep the key
And I keep on playing my part
Not knowing the game
And the secret will remain And the secret will remain
