This Time

Eighteen Visions

Can I make this madness go away?
Again I wake at 3am, can't lose these creeps inside my head
Reality seems far away and all my dreams will slowly fadeThe sun breaks the silence that the night divides
The moon might be the perfect place for me to hideI can't stop my mind
This time, my mindCan I make this madness go away?
My mind to fade has turned the page cause dead and gone is where I lay
The enemy in black and flame within this hell is where I playThe sun breaks the silence that the night divides
The moon might be the perfect place for me to hideI can't stop my mind
This time, my mind
I can't stop my mind
This time, my mindThis time on my side the moon is alive
It's time to resign the Devil in my mind
As darkness takes me to the brink of devastationI can't stop my mind
This time, my mind
I know that I'm close to finding my salvation
I can't stop my mind
This time, my mind
I know that I'm close to finding my salvation
