You Fail Me

Converge

you fail me with every fatal crush you fail me with every abandoned love you fail me with your inferno fuck me eyes that burn as fuel for my city and its neon lights burn bright white line fever take them all you fail me with your new dead end dream you fail me with your pill box fantasy you fail me as love's greatest war that was never worth you were never worth fighting for dying living dying living dying everyday living dying living dying living everyday you think you are a poet in your eyes you are a star who lives through a fantasy of rising above you think you're a victim but you live as a drunk that has never sacrificed that has never loved you think you are tragic but i know you are lost you have walked the fault lines and you have crossed them all this world doesn't fight you, you fight yourself thinking we fail you you fail yourself
