Without You

Blake Lewis

Girl, you could explain for a thousand days
But I'll never work out while we're throwing it all away
You say you're still in love, you just need more space
I don't have the strength to leave you but I don't want to wait
I'm not trying to bring you down
I'm only calling you because
I thought you should know I
Can't get used to life without you
Close my eyes, see your face, when nothing seems to ease pain
And I just can't get through these nights without you
Close my eyes, see your face, I only have myself to blame
Girl, now you're alone I feel out of place
It's all that I can do to get up and turn the page
Every spin of the hands is a thousand days
The things I left and sailed, pushed you so far away
I'm not trying to bring you down
I'm only calling you because
I thought you should know I
Can't get used to life without you
Close my eyes, see your face, when nothing seems to ease the pain
And I just can't get through these nights without you
Close my eyes, see your face, I only have myself to blame
I can't wait, there's no more time, I'm getting lost inside my mind
And it's easy to see that I let you slip right through my hands
I can't believe that it's over, I want to open my eyes and see you here
Can't get used to life without you
Close my eyes, see your face, I only have myself to blame
Can't get used to life without you
Close my eyes, see your face, when nothing seems to ease the pain
And I just can't get through these nights without you
Close my eyes, see your face, I only have myself to blame
You're all I need, to survive
You're all I need to divide
You're all I need to survive
You're all I need to divide
