Bleecker and 6th

Jesse Ruben

She's scouring galleries
Counting her calories
Saving her salary tooShe's soft and outspoken
But feels like she's broken
And hoping that she will improveCause she's been so deceived
That she thinks that she needs to be fixed
She's in love with a man that she met down on Bleecker and 6thHe's more than her neighbor
She likes his behavior
And thinks he can save her for realAnd it's not asking much
For a man she can trust
That offers to pay for the mealAnd she needs him to call
And she's pounding the wall with her fist
She's in love with a man that she met down on Bleecker and 6thAnd this city is scary when
No one is there to share it with
And if anything's wrong
She needs someone strong to take care of it
She wants to take care of himHe's out for a walk
Cause he fought with his boss
Over losses that didn't make senseIt's late afternoon
In the middle of June
And she's reading a book on a benchSo he sits down beside her
And smiles and then he says this
Well I think you're the woman I met down on Bleecker and 6thAnd this city is scary when
No one is there to share it with
And if anything's wrong
She needs someone strong to take care of it
She wants to take care of himAt first they were shy
And a little bit quiet
But they stayed awake until dawnAnd as the day passed
They both realized at last
They found what they lacked all alongSo he takes a deep breath
Puts his hand on her neck
And they kissAnd this isn't a shock
Cause this story does not have a twist
They're in love and they live
In a loft down on Bleecker and 6thMhm, Mhm
Mhm,Mhm
