

Beautiful Things Can Come From the Dark

Azure Ray

Someone else's boy, you've had it so hard,
Will you grow up to be you,
Or a sum of your parts just hanging in the air?
Someone else's boy, tell me your convoluted stories through half-rotten mouth,
I will decipher them, to tell the world of your heart,
How beautiful things can come from the dark,
Oh, boySomeone else's boy, I have seen your face,
Light in the stars, it was then I knew,
That your heart was pure, that it had not yet been destroyed,
Oh, noSomeone else's boy, I have hope for you,
That you will keep your love for the world,
Even though it beats you down, every day,
For the rest of your stayIf you could sweep up the pieces and watch them swirl,
You could even find love in the arms of someone else's girl
