

Cinderella

Daughtry

Dressed in red, you're scooping litter from the cats
I thought we had someone for that
But by the looks of things you fired the maid again Yeah I confess, I know the floor won't clean itself
And you're worried half to death
About the things that just won't matter in the end Take off those shoes
Looks like you could really use a glass slipper
Yeah I know it's been a pisser
So one strong zipper might suffice Come on girl, I'm begging please
Get off your knees, I got the keys
And I'll pick you up at midnight
In my suit up pumpkin ride 'Cause you're my Cinderella
We're two birds of a feather
I'll even sing to you acapella
You're so hella good looking tonight
My Cinderella
Whenever you need some shelter
We can stand under my umbrella
Together
Need no fortune teller to see it's forever with you
Oh no, it's forever with you Don't watch the clock,
I paid some dude to make it stop
But we won't worry 'bout tomorrow
There's no sorrow in this fairytale I wrote I gotta say
You still take my breath away
That look reminds me of that day
You scratched your number on that yellow poster note And now you're my Cinderella
We're two birds of a feather
I'll even sing to you acapella
You're so hella good looking tonight
My Cinderella
Whenever you need some shelter
We can stand under my umbrella
Together
Need no fortune teller to see it's forever with you
Oh no, it's forever with you Check out those stars
I picked 'em up one day on Mars
And you thought I was at the bar
Well okay maybe there's a little truth to that As I would say
And if you squint a certain way

You'll see they kinda spelled your name
Just a little
But okay maybe that's a stretch But you're my Cinderella
We're two birds of a feather
I'll even sing to you acapella
Forever
Or until you've had enough 'Cause you're my Cinderella
And I'm your kind of fella
I wanna kiss you there and tell ya'
You're so hella good looking tonight
My Cinderella
Whenever you need some shelter
We can stand under my umbrella
Together
Need no fortune teller to see it's forever with you
Oh no, it's forever with you Yeah and I mean forever with you, oh
I know it's forever with you
