

Two Rebels

Honor Society

I know you're scared
Everybody gets a little bit of stage fright
But we're prepared, and the mood is set
And it's come together just right
What should we do now
That we're caught in the middle of the spotlight?
I can feel your butterflies
If we kiss, will they fly away?
We had our whole life scripted
But we tossed it to the side
Those words can't tell us nothing
Come on, baby, let's improvise
Whoa-oh, do you trust me enough if we become two rebels?
Whoa-oh, we're just like outlaws on the run, all we have is each other
Whoa-oh, we're gonna eat, sleep, breathe our love
Would you become a rebel with me?
The night is young, and when everybody's
Fast asleep we're still rehearsing
The sun comes up, and I see you in the dark
But you look even better in the morning, ya
What should we do now
That we're caught in the middle of the sunlight?
You might even wanna hide
But together we can run away, just you and me
We had our whole life scripted
But we tossed it to the side
Those words can't tell us nothing
Come on, baby, let's improvise
Whoa-oh, do you trust me enough if we become two rebels?
Whoa-oh, just like outlaws on the run, all we have is each other
Whoa-oh, we're gonna eat, sleep, breathe our love
Would you become a rebel with me?
Whoa-oh, baby, we're two rebels
Whoa-oh, in this black and white, black and white world
Whoa-oh, baby, we're two rebels
Whoa-oh, in this black and white, black and white world
Whoa-oh, baby, we're two rebels
Whoa-oh, in this black and white, black and white world
Whoa-oh, do you trust me enough if we become two rebels?
Whoa-oh, just like outlaws on the run, all we have is each other
Whoa-oh, we're gonna eat, sleep, breathe our love
Would you become a rebel with me?
Would you become a rebel with me?
Would you become a rebel with me?
