

Through Heaven

Tangerine Circus

And I wake up crying
in a day of clouds and rain
like I want to pretend to run in descent
To find out that my God
is praying for him
and my enemy
reminds me of earth
and tells me in a dream there's no heaven On a distant shore on the edge of time we sealed the promise Of a newfound love of a story never told Sung in heaven
I was afraid of chances I was afraid of being Love took a turn upon me and with a kiss, she changed me I saw the future in her eyes, the world was a brighter place, She said "Bye, I'm sorry"
I opened my eyes
And I wake up crying
in a day of clouds and rain
like I want to pretend
To find out I'm dying And my God's been praying for him and my enemy is on earth
and tells me in a dream
there's no heaven
And the cradle falls Past steps cannot be retraced there's no tomorrow Fortune seems to be at end Imagination left the den
I was hurt and I won't bleed
My journey
To heaven
An alone and God forsaken place I was afraid of chances I was afraid of being loved

She took a turn upon me and with a kiss, she changed my lifeI saw the future in her smile the world was such a brighter place
She said "Goodbye, I'm sorry"
I opened my eyes
And I wake up crying
in a day of clouds and rain
like I want to pretend
to run in descent
To find out that my God
is praying for him
and my enemy
reminds me of earth
and tells me in a dream
there's no heavenIn the end, I'll learn how to swallow my pride and try to believe in myselfNow what's left of me, a shadow of disdain Of a kid, selfish human being.

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>