Pandora's Box

ID:VISION

Save your stories for someone who cares
Leave your looks and your stares at the door
Grab a chair this is gonna take a second to explain
And I'm not repeating myself anymore
Look at all of the damage you've done
Crossed the line you've crossed with me
So game's over and reality's coming
Now I'm the boogeyman standing in front of you, now I'm gone
Dream time's over and the nightmare has begun
You broke the lock on Pandora's Box
And everything inside was lost
Even if you ran around picking up the pieces
Even if you find them all, where's that gonna leave us?
Right here dealing with a box
Top wide open with a broken lock
Where's that gonna leave us?
Where's that gonna leave us?
Every single one of your feelings are clear
The glass covered with you pulling in my ears
I'll be leaving scars that I'll be carrying for years
Just don't expect a reaction when you're turning on the tears
I've heard that excuse
Try living in the truth
You're fucked up, and confused
And lost without a clue
And your intentions were enough
It was all about you, you, YOU!

Dream time's over and the nightmare has begun
You broke the lock on Pandora's Box
And everything inside was lost
Even if you ran around picking up the pieces
Even if you find them all, where's that gonna leave us?
Right here dealing with a box
Top wide open with a broken lock
You can try and sleep for days
You would still wake up the same way
Lying and not living up to
The truth your constantly running from

I wont waste my time explaining
What we both know I wouldn't be saying
Anything I haven't said before, before...
IT'S TIME TO WAKE UP!
Dream time's over and the nightmare has begun
You broke the lock on Pandora's Box
And everything inside was lost
Even if you ran around picking up the pieces
Even if you find them all, where's that gonna leave us?
Right here dealing with a box
Top wide open with a broken lock
Where's that gonna leave us
Where's that gonna leave us
Right here dealing with a box
Top wide open with a broken lock
