Reasons

Ryan Cabrera

Well if you ever become one of them
Listen up real closely
Cause I won't tell you again, boy
And even though I know the bad times never hurt you
A run in with the wrong crowd
Can never, you never hurt
If you believe in yourself now sometimes
Then I'll believe in you
That there's reasons darling you'll never know
And I can't even start to explain how they go
Yah there's reasons I'm asking you now to hold on
Yeah and don't you leave me alone in this life
Yeah, in this life
Hey, I see what you're doing now
I've seen a lot of things but never quite like that Because before long I'm gone and I'm not coming back
And once I leave you know that I am never yeah, never

Coming back to this place in my life
Cause I'm all that you have
But That there's reasons darling you'll never know
And I can't even start to explain how they go
Yah there's reasons I'm asking you now to hold on
Yah and don't you leave me alone in this life
If you believe in your self now sometimes
Then I'll believe in you
But That there's reasons darling you'll never know
And I can't even start to explain how they go
Yah there's reasons I'm asking you now to hold on
Yah and don't you leave me alone in this life
Leave me alone in this life
