

Revolution

The Urgency

It's so obvious
The tone you're taking with me makes its hits
Pinpoints the weak spots in my tympanum
You're love is deafening and oh, so very dumb Can you hear it now?
The siren song before the final bow
The dying screams before my ears give out
Irony how I actually said I'd miss the sound Of your voice
Like a lamb's
Soothing close
Making plans Revolution, will you save us?
Will you take us so far away?
Make us more, make us whole
Strip us bare of all desire But if the mood should hit you
Hell, I wouldn't mind a bit
Just give it a taste, it might abate
The heartache I feel deep inside of you We were kids back then
We could never truly understand
That we may never see the blinding light
Perhaps no tunnels ever led to gates of white But your voice
Soothing close
Like a lamb's
Gave me hope Revolution, will you save us?
Will you take us so far away?
Make us more, make us whole
Strip us bare of all desire Revolution, will you save us?
Will you take us so far away?
Make us more, make us whole
Strip us bare of all desire You said you had enough
Hell, that's all you had to say
All these bold-faced stunts
Won't know what's coming for them
You better believe we're biting at their heels Revolution, will you save us?
Will you take us so far away?
Make us more, make us whole
Strip us bare of all desire Revolution, will you save us?
Will you take us so far away?
Make us more, make us whole
Strip us bare of all
Make us bare of all
