Through the music there's a dancing girl
She can be broken in your hands
She knows you're looking at her but that's what scares her
You're in the space that she commands If she still likes you, you might get a call
She'll ask you why you stood and stared
You will be hearing from her but that should scare you
If she still likes you be prepared Pardon me for calling
But I'm just checking in
You don't know who I am
But I know where you've been You sit and tap your fingers
When you should tap your phone
Tap all your resources
Until she leaves you alone
She leaves you alone This girl's got nothing on you but that's what bugs you
'Cause you still let her get to you Pardon me for calling
But I'm just checking in
You don't know who I am
But I know where you've been You sit and tap your fingers
When you should tap your phone
Tap all your resources
Until she leaves you alone
She leaves you alone
