

Redemption Days

Josh Osho

Sweet, sweet were the memories
Song and the symphony
That we had yesterday.
Oh, free, free were these city roads
But now I feel so over grown
And hard to escape
But deep beyond the surface lies
Before itâ€™s so unjustified but still you carry on Youâ€™re a soldier, oh youâ€™re a fighter
Donâ€™t go an waste another day just take what comes your way, oh

If you know what you want to feel an how high
Do you want to feel it,
If you know what you want to say oh I wanna hear you say it.
If you know where you wanna go an how far, do you wanna take it
â€˜Cause no matter what mistakes youâ€™ve made
These are your redemption days.

No white flag outside your door
Weâ€™ll navigate them for the sure for an easy get away
Youâ€™re mind looking out for circumstance
Is really gonna make the difference
To know the right game to play
And voices tell to be hold
Upon the wreckage lies soul
That knows the path to fields of gold,
Itâ€™s where you wanna reach.
Youâ€™re a soldier, oh youâ€™re a fighter
Don't go and waste another day just take what comes your way, oh

If you know what you want to feel an how high
Do you want to feel it,
If you know what you want to say oh I wanna hear you say it.
If you know where you wanna go an how far, do you wanna take it
â€˜Cause no matter what mistakes youâ€™ve made
These are your redemption days.

For the Holy day cometh when you chose your destination
The day come when you choose your destination
A man sacrifice his life for salvation

So we can sing Bob Marley songs of redemption
You a believer or non-believer, there's no exception
I walk through the ashes when the Lord burn the sinners
 Bare footed, all draped out in linens
 Repentended, I lived though sacrifice
 And now I wait my eternal residence in paradise
I walk the righteous path through the garden of eden with the enlightened mind I got from the knowledge of readin'
 Hard to believe I achieve through the devine intervention
 Iâ€™m a soldier Iâ€™ll be standing on the day of redemption

 If you know what you want to feel an how high
 Do you want to feel it,
 If you know what you want to say oh I wanna hear you say it.
 If you know where you wanna go an how far, do you wanna take it
 â€˜Cause no matter what mistakes youâ€™ve made
 These are your redemption days.
 These are your redemption days.
 These are your redemption days.
