

More Than It Seems

Kutless

Is my imagination running away
Or is all this really happening to me
Am I a prince in a far away
Land filled with fantasy? Where is reality and what are the actions
That will define who I am?
I am holding onto the visions I've seen
Of what I could be, it's what I should be More than it seems these dreams inside
Blur reality's line
If I could believe the dreams aside
I am capable more than it seems, more than it seems Passing through darkness into my own world
Will I be more than when I left
Never letting go of the lessons I learned
This will make a change, a change within me More than it seems these dreams inside
Blur reality's line
If I could believe the dreams aside
I am capable more than it seems This time I won't run away
I found the strength to face life's long days
This time, I won't run away More than it seems these dreams inside
Blur reality's line
If I could believe the dreams aside
I am capable more than it seems More than it seems these dreams inside
Blur reality's line
If I could believe the dreams aside
I am capable more than it seems 'Til there's nothing left of me
Show me the way to these dreams
